PHIPA application – Myth busting and more

The Personal Health Information Protection Act (PHIPA) is a robust privacy statute that is clear in its application to organizations with a health care mandate. However, when organizations without a health care mandate handle medical information, the matter of PHIPA application quickly becomes complex. Join BLG's Daniel Girlando, Dan Michaluk and Katherine Stanger for a thorough discussion of PHIPA application issues as they pertain to employers, occupational health providers and educational institutions. Daniel, Dan and Katherine will address common misconceptions about when and how PHIPA as well as the often asked question, "Who is the custodian?".
